Swarthmore's 143rd Class
The Class of 2015

applicants (15% were offered admission)

202
Women

White
49%

15% Asian American

15% Asian American

(11% are the first generation to attend college) Where the Class of 2015 comes from

First-year students

39 U.S. states are represented, as well as the District of Columbia; most students are from high schools in New York, Pennsylvania, California, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maryland, Connecticut, Washington, Ohio, Illinois

34 International citizens represent Belize, Canada, China, Colombia, Egypt, England, Germany, Ghana, Guatemala, Hong Kong, India, Jordan, Kenya, Nepal, South Korea, Thailand Trinidad & Tobago, Vietnam

The schools they attended (at least 1 student home-schooled)

58% 27% 5% 10% public high private independent parochial overseas

The most anticipated majors engineering, political science, English literature, biology, economics, history, psychology, physics, linguistics, mathematics, sociology and anthropology

The unusual talents of the incoming class

